

Socialserve.com® Special Populations Housing Search

Find housing for special-needs groups such as veterans, frail and elderly, emancipated youth, hearing and sight impaired clients – and many more – through this valuable service of the Los Angeles County Housing Resource Center.

A Secure and Confidential Service for Agency Workers

- Authorized agencies can search for housing that meets client needs without sacrificing privacy or confidentiality rights.
- For access, agency workers must be approved and undergo confidentiality training.
- Listings include full contact information to help caseworkers can establish relationships with potential landlords.

A Wide Range of Housing Options

- Every property provider who registers to list with the Los Angeles County Housing Resource Center is offered the opportunity to promote properties to special populations.
- Listings are never flagged as being offered to special populations and are only known as available to those populations by authorized users with very specific permissions.
- By providing landlords an anonymous, free way to connect with special-needs tenants, this service increases scattered-site housing options for clients and facilitates valuable relationship building between landlords and caseworkers.

For more information about gaining access to this valuable tool for your agency, contact Housing.LACounty.gov Project Manager Larry Newnam with the Los Angeles County Community Development Corporation at Larry.Newnam@lacdc.org.